Threat-led Cyber Risk Monitoring

Leveraging machine learning and expert analysis to predict and minimize exposure to breaches.

DUAL's partner for continuous monitoring to reduce your external cyber risk.

Orpheus leverages threat intelligences to give you a holistic view of your full attack surface. Our intelligence-led risk management platform uses machine learning to predict who is likely to attack you, using what methods, and through what live vulnerabilities.

Once a policy is bound, Orpheus' monitoring services begins. Representatives from Orpheus will reach out to the individual policy holder for an initial consultation. In the initial consultation, Orpheus will review all externally identified cyber risk issues and continuously monitor those issues from then on.
